Trio of Entrepreneur Sisters to Speak at Meadowcreek High School

On Friday, April 13, at 8:45 a.m., the Meadowcreek High School 9th Grade Success Academy will welcome Karen, Daniela, and Stephanie Carvajalino to the school. The three sisters will speak to a group of nearly 100 9th grade girls about the importance of developing talents and maximizing their potential. The event will be held in the Meadowcreek High School Theater.

The Carvajalino sisters became entrepreneurs in elementary school, starting a company that sold chocolates. At the time, Karen, Daniela and Stephanie were 6-, 7-, and 8-years-old, respectively. The Colombian entrepreneurs are now authors and lecturers who are passionate about productive education.

Like her sisters, Stephanie is focused on realizing her dreams. She says, “We are convinced that the only way to predict the future is to build it.”

Their latest endeavor is Biz Nation, an online learning platform that teaches marketable skills, entrepreneurship, and financial education.
